

Alan Barefield

Extension Professor, Agricultural Economics
Mississippi State University Extension Service
P.O. Box 5187
Mississippi State, MS 39762
Voice: 662.325.7995 Fax: 662.325.8777
E-mail: alan.barefield@msstate.edu

Alan Barefield is an Extension Professor with the Mississippi State University Extension Service. His primary role is to facilitate economic and community development educational programming efforts in the state of Mississippi. Specific areas addressed include business and entrepreneurship development, community economic and social analysis, business retention and expansion, and community infrastructure development and analysis. Barefield has received the BREI Distinguished Service Award in 2010 and the Master Business and Retention Professional designation in 2011. Barefield has had several service roles with Business Retention and Expansion International including serving as a member of and current chair of the BREI Education Committee, rewriting the curricula for the BREI Fundamentals Course with Kathy Tweenen and developing curricula for several BREI Continuing Education courses.

Lisa Cooley

Assistant Professor, Marketing
Management, Marketing and Business Administration
Delta State University
DSU Box 3294 Broom Building 183
Cleveland, MS 38733
lcooley@deltastate.edu
662.846.4234

Dr. Lisa G. Cooley is an Assistant Professor of Marketing and the Graduate Programs Coordinator at Delta State University in Cleveland, Mississippi. Prior to joining academia full-time, Cooley worked in economic development primarily working with Chambers of Commerce and Main Street organizations.

Cooley served as the Main Street Program Director in Cleveland, Mississippi and Natchitoches, Louisiana. During her time overseeing these programs, Cooley assisted with strategic planning and implementation, grant writing, marketing, event planning, and efforts to support small business.

Cooley has served on numerous boards. She currently serves on the Cleveland Bolivar County Chamber of Commerce board, the Cleveland Development Foundation Board, and on the Operations Management and Entrepreneurship Association board. Her research focuses primarily on entrepreneurial ecosystems and the organizations that are in place to support entrepreneurship at the local level.

Devon Meadowcroft

Assistant Professor, Agricultural Economics
Mississippi State University Extension Service
P.O. Box 197
82 Stoneville Road
Stoneville, MS 38776
d.meadowcroft@msstate.edu
662.686.3215

Devon Meadowcroft is an Assistant Professor for the Department of Agricultural Economics at Mississippi State University. She began work at Mississippi State in August 2020 and is based out of the Delta Research and Extension Center in Stoneville, MS. Devon's work is primarily in rural development and health. Originally from New Jersey, Devon completed her Master's degree at the University of Delaware and her Ph.D. from Oklahoma State University.

Zina Taran

Associate Professor, Marketing
Management, Marketing and Business Administration
Delta State University
DSU Box 3275 Broom Building 244
Cleveland, MS 38733
ztaran@deltastate.edu
662.846.4190

Zina Taran received her doctoral degree specializing in marketing from Rutgers, the State University of NJ. An author of a few dozen journal articles, conference proceedings and presentations, she is an expert on branding, market research, and quantitative methods, as well as corporate social responsibility. Her research analyzes reputational characteristics like brand equity, reputation due to Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR), or reputation of being knowledgeable, and the resulting perceptual and cognitive biases. She is also a passionate and devoted educator.